Colorectal cancer constitutes one of the most common cancers worldwide. Significant advances have been made in recent years, yet challenges and opportunities remain. This conference convenes internationally renowned scientists to provide state-of-the-art talks in critical areas of relevance to colorectal cancer. This scientific program is designed to provide surgeons with in-depth and up-to-date knowledge relative to surgery for colorectal cancer with emphasis on patient care and research. Presentation formats include podium presentations followed by audience questions and critiques, panel discussions, video presentations and symposia focusing on specific state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment modalities. The purpose of all sessions is to improve the quality of care of patients with colorectal cancer. It gives me immense pleasure to organize this Meeting from October 22 to 23, 2012. On behalf of the organizing committee, I extend a very warm and cordial invitation to all of you. I truly believe that the meeting will be a highly rewarding international event for everyone and will bring enhancement of the scientific level and quality in the field of colorectal cancer.
